In cases of stricture, by the use of my original and strictly modern treatment, I cure the disease without cutting or dilating, thus avoiding the horoton of surgery. It is the culy treatment that should ever be used, and the only one recommended by the legions of men who have recently been cured by it. It acts immediately and directly upon the Stricture, dissolving it completely and disloiding all diseased tissue, which comes away in strips or shredlike flor, allays all irritation and inflammation, stops all discharges, leaving the canal entirely free from obstruction. The weakened organs become strong and sturdy, and the joys and vigor of manhood are restored.

MAYOR CONSULTED BY JUDGE.

At Mr. Wells's Advice Wislizenus Causes Representative Business Men to Be Summoned to Hear the Cases.

The first conviction ever secured in gambling trial before a jury in the Dayton Police Court, according to the statements of the court officials, was obtained yesterday when Edward Murphy, Frank Wilson Martin Douglas, Eugene Emerson, Charles Williams and Louis Edwards were fined each on a charge of playing poker.

The selection of the jury was a little out of the ordinary. The defendants were arrested August 16, together with Henry A. Barnes, William Cavers and Robert Carney in a raid at No. 905 North Compton avenue. When the cases came to trial Attorney Andrew Duggan, who represented the defendants, who were tried yesterday, asked for a jury, and all of the cases were continued until yesterday.

ORGANIZING MILITIA COMPANY. E. E. Wood Recruiting Men for Washington, Aug. 21.-Admiral George

First Regiment, N. G. M. Admiral Henry L. Howison to serve as a E. E. Wood has begun the organization of one of the three companies which are to be added to the First Regiment, National The Navy Department, having consulted Guard of Missouri. Mr. Wood has arranged to receive the names of applicants at his office in the Chemical building. As soon as completed, the company will receive instructions in the manual of arms from Mr. Wood. Admiral Schley before Admiral Howison was ordered to duty as a member of the court, and having received assurances who receive in the manual of arms from Mr. Wood, who has had much practical military training. Previous military service is not required of those wishing to enilst. State.

The addition of the three companies will make the organization a twelve-company regiment. Thus organized, the First Regiment will be one of the finest military organizations in the West. The action of the department is in accord with the practice in both the army and navy, the uniform rule in both services being that when a member of a court-martial or court of inquiry is challenged, the question of his qualification for service is passed upon and decided by the unchallenged members of the court.

The action of the department is being criticised, however, by friends of Admired.

Admiral Schley's attorneys will make a determined fight to secure the substitution of some other officer for Admiral Howison. They believe that he was correctly quoted in the Boston interview and they expect to have the reporter who wrote the interview appear before the unchallenged members of the court and take oath on its accuracy. If Admiral Howison gave the interview, it would seem that he had forgotten the circumstance when he wrote to the department saying that he had made no public utterance relating to the subject, and had seen none of the official reports and papers bearing upon the questions to be decided by the court. NATIONAL Now that the Reverend Doctor D. C. Doctor Mack's recent visit to the Central Church has only strengthened the desire of the cangregation to have him return. On the two Sundays that Doctor Mack was here there was the best summer attendance for years.

Of course, nothing official has been done, but the spontaneous expression of the desire on the part of the membership will, in all probability, result in official steps being taken. The Pulpit Supply Committee is composed of Messrs. John F. Green, L. L. Prince and D. G. Tutt. Visitors From the Southwest Say Conditions in Their Territory Are Such That They Are Buying Heavier Stocks.

Business women who are in St. Louis purchasing fall and winter goods have more heerful opinions of the result of the drought which has prevailed in their territory than have the men. Nearly all of those seen yesterday regarding the effect of the dry weather on their business say they do not believe it will be serious.

Men who are in St. Louis purchasing goods are not buying as heavily as they did last year, but their sisters in trade say they can see no reason for holding down their purchases, and they are going from store to store selecting their goods as if such a thing as a drought was un-

Dealers along Washington avenue say that they feel the drought's effect, but not so extensively as they had expected.
